January presentation

"It took me 15 years to find this thing," Charles C said as he displayed a medal awarded to his great grandfather's brother by the state of Ohio for service during the Civil War. The medal, engraved with the name of William F. Wiley, still had its original ribbon and came with a rare 1866 form awarding it to him.

Charles became interested in the Civil War as a child after he was given the fork and spoon from his ancestor's military mess kit. Today he specializes in his great grand uncle's unit, Co. I of the Ohio 25th.

The bronze Tiffany medal was awarded to Ohio soldiers who re-enlisted after their initial term was up. Wiley's re-enlistment paper attests, among other things, that he was "entirely sober when he re-enlisted."

Wiley was wounded twice; shot in the leg at Gettysburg and the arm at Honey Hill, S.C. He died in 1890.

Steve Petty reported the club is working on a grading seminar for the spring. While details are still being worked out, current thought is Coin World Editor Steve Roach will conduct two two-hour seminars for 15 people each on Saturday, April 6 at Oakstone.

Registration will be required. Steve will have details for discussion at our February meeting.

"One of the most important things you can do," he said, "is learn how to grade." Central States Numismatic Society will underwrite up to $200 of the seminar's cost as part of its speaker program.

Early American Coppers

EAC, the club for collectors of Colonial coins, large cents and half cents, is holding its annual convention, at Cherry Valley Lodge in Newark, Ohio, May 3, 4 and 5. If you want to see high-end copper and fabled pieces of Colonial history lovingly displayed, this is the show to go to. The bourse will have 20 to 30 national dealers. The club is looking for volunteers to help with registration and keeping an eye on the coins during auction-lot viewing. See Charles if you're interested.

Blast from the past

Changing the reverse of the $1 bill in 1935 from the Funny Back to the Great Seal was not universally acclaimed. This appeared in the Feb. 25, 1935 Deseret (Salt Lake City) News

ON NEW DEAL DOLLAR

Republicans are insinuating that "New Deal" propaganda idea prompted choice of reverse (top), of Great Seal of United States, never used before, as design for new dollar bill. The Latin motto on the seal means "A new order of the ages." The more familiar face of the seal is shown below,
